

8. Roadmap for competency building

9. How Ed Watch can help?

Ed-Watch is a specialized learning and consulting firm committed to advancing sustainability, digital transformation, and workforce competencies. Leveraging global best practices and regional expertise, we support organizations in designing and delivering high-impact learning solutions that align with their sustainability ambitions.

Ed-Watch offers:

- We co-create tailored training solutions focused on ESG, climate change, sustainable development, and regulatory compliance.
- We offer globally recognized certifications and collaborate with leading institutions to ensure credibility and impact.
- We help organizations plan and phase their upskilling efforts through structured, measurable roadmaps—from awareness to advanced expertise.
- Our scalable LMS solutions support blended and self-paced learning, ensuring wide accessibility and engagement.
- Beyond training, we support organizations in embedding sustainability into their culture, leadership, and operations.

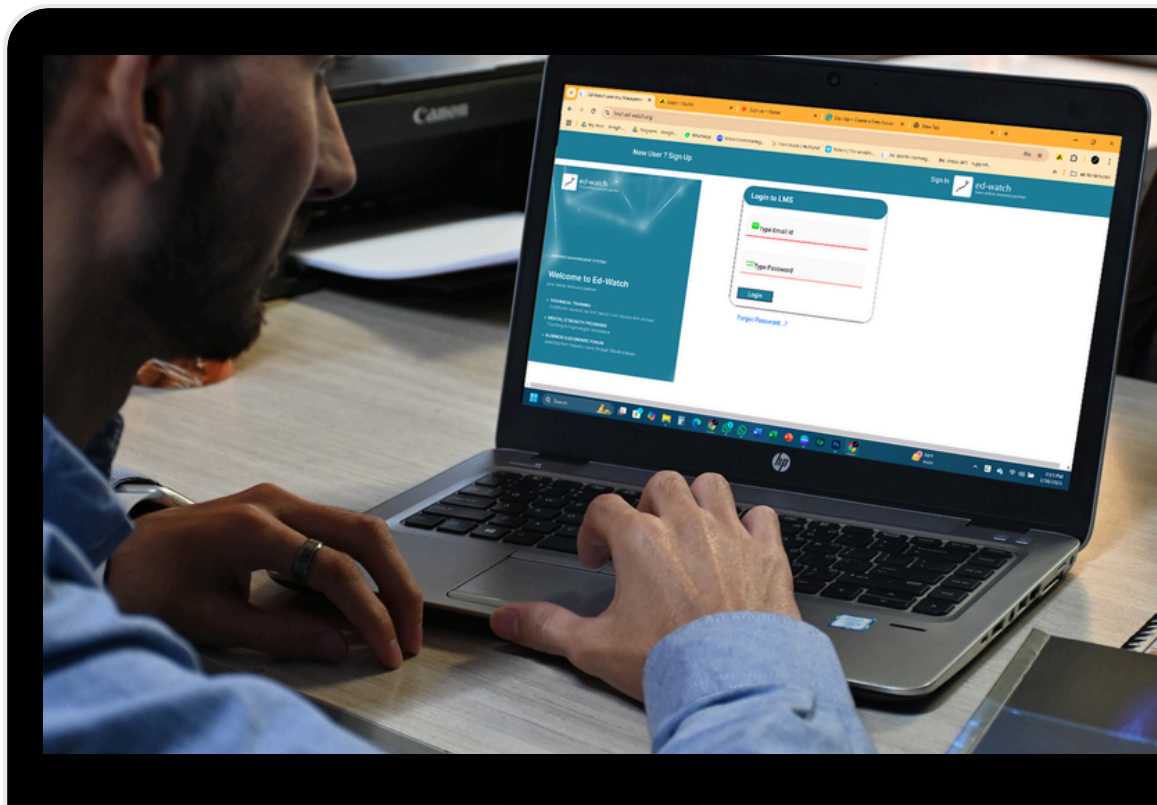

With a deep understanding of sector-specific challenges and future-readiness needs, Ed-Watch acts as a long-term partner in enabling your sustainability transformation through education, capacity building, and performance improvement.

By concentrating on these focus areas, companies can:

- ✓ Proactively respond to stakeholder expectations
- ✓ Drive innovation in clean energy technologies
- ✓ Improve operational efficiency and resource management
- ✓ Strengthen relationships with local communities and regulatory bodies
- ✓ Attract and retain top talent committed to sustainable practices

“Our solution isn't just a service; it's a strategic investment in (Company)'s future growth. Partner with us to unlock new opportunities and drive lasting success.”

Thank You!
